

A: I know all my husband's brothers and sisters, and they are as follows: The oldest is Evelyn Young, a daughter of Nellie Beacht, who married Wendell Young. They live at 710 Irving Street, N.E., Washington, D. C.. There is a brother, Elmer Beacht, whose wife's name is Caroline, and they live at Somerville, New Jersey, R. F. D. 1. Then my husband has another sister, Marjorie Wightman, whose husband's name is Elder Wightman, and they live at 6407 Sligo Parkway, Green Meadows, Hyattstown, Maryland. Then my husband has another brother, W. Wilson Beacht, who is in the Navy and who is at present stationed at the U.S. Naval Station, Squantum, Massachusetts. Then, of course, there is my husband, who was the baby of the family. He is 22 years of age and we live at 229 East Fourt Street, in Frederick, Maryland. My husband also had an older brother, Charles Edward Beacht, who died in June, 1940. He left surviving him a daughter, whose name is Agnes M. Kittle. She married a man named Werner Kittle, and they live at 4205 Potter Street, Irvington, Baltimore, Maryland. He also left surviving him Charles Edward Beacht, Jr., who is not about 20 years of age. He is in the Navy and the last we heard he was stationed on the U.S.S. Washington, and his post office address was c/o Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, California. Charles Edward Beacht, as I have said, died in June, 1940, which was before the date of the death of Nellie Beacht. There was also another brother of my husband, whose name was Mervin Grayson Beacht. He died since the death of my mother-in-law. It was on October 5, 1942, and he left surviving him a widow, Iona Beacht, but no children. There is still another brother of my husband whose name is Claude N. Beacht, and whose wife is Talmadge Beacht. They live in the home property in Brunswick. These are all of the children and heirs-at-law of my mother-in-law, Nellie Beacht.

Q: Mrs. Beacht, are you familiar with the property in Brunswick, located at 117 West C. Street?
